PRINCE STILL WELCOME.

SOUTH AFRICA'S LOYALTY.

ELECTIONS DELAY VISIT.

INVITATION TO BE RENEWED LATER.

(Reuter's General Service.)

CAPE TOWN, April 8.
Speaking in the Assembly the Nationalist leader Mr. Hertzog said he hoped the announcement of the postponement of the Prince of Wales' visit was not equivalent to saying that the Prince would not come at all (cheers).
He hoped he was voicing the feeling of all sections when he said that if the Prince visited South Africa in the future he would be greeted with respect and warmth worthy of his high position and the South African people (cheers).
General Smuts, (the Premier), replying, said the Prince was assured of a very royal welcome from every shade of opinion. It was only the proprieties of the case that induced the Government to advise him to postpone his trip during the election turmoil. He hoped the invitation would be renewed when the elections were over.

SHIPYARD TROUBLE.

RECALCITRANT UNIONS SUSPENDED.

LOCK-OUT BALLOT PROCEEDING.

LONDON, April 8.

The shipbuilding unions have suspended the whole of the 1,200 members of the three recalcitrant branches at Southampton. Ballotting by the remainder is proceeding.

[The Shipbuilding employers have decided upon a national lock-out in shipyards affecting over 100,000 men as the striking engineers at Southampton have refused to resume work pending discussion with a view to settlement. The engineers at Southampton are demanding an increase of 17s. 6d. a week to bring them into line with London dock workers.]

ATHLETIC BURGLAR.

EXCITING SHANGHAI CHASE.

HONGKONG BANK INCIDENT.

A highly sensational drama was enacted in the vicinity of the Bund at an early hour, says the N. C. D. News just to hand, amplifying last week's brief cable reports. A Chinese burglar gained entrance to the premises of the Hongkong & Shanghai Banking Corporation, and being seen by the watchmen on duty, made a very hurried exit. He followed this up with a wild attempt at escape but before going very far was intercepted in his flight by the police.

The burglar selected his point of entry at a spot where he considered he would best escape observation. This was a window on the north side of the building where the wall of the Customs compound would assist him in eluding the notice of police and watchmen. Apparently he did his work rapidly, for before anybody was aware of what was happening he had cut a piece out of a pane of glass, inserted his arm and opened the window. The moment that he got foot in the banking hall, however, Nemesis awaited him. His information as to the possibilities of successfully robbing a bank seems to have been badly at fault, for he quite overlooked the fact that the bank in question is not only patrolled outside but watchmen and detectives are stationed in the interior.

NO TIME FOR THE FUGITIVE'S NET.
No time elapsed between the burglar's entry into the bank and his presence being spotted by the guard. The latter were immediately on his track, and then rushed on the part of the interior, a desperate attempt to flee and an equally hot chase after him.

The burglar apparently knew the bank premises well, and instead of doubling back he made straight for the compound's department which lies to the rear of the banking hall. A door with glass panels barred his access to it, but the man either dived through one of the panes or had a hammer which enabled him to smash the glass and then pass through. He seems to have been a very athletic individual, for counters and desks were taken almost in his stride, and he reached the north wall of the bank. This is close to Messrs. Calbeck, Macgregor & Co.'s premises and here a passage-way gives on to Poochow Road.

The fugitive repeated his previous performance with one of the windows here, dived through and was at length out in the open. What is more he had passed through the broken glass unscathed.

CHASE AND PURSUIT.
His pursuers were hard on his heels, and now he had in addition

CALM AFTER THE STORM.

COMMONS QUIET AGAIN.

EVICIONS BILL COMPROMISE.

GOVERNMENT FATHERING LIBERAL MEASURE.

(Reuter's General Service.)

LONDON, April 8.

The House of Commons opened dully, benches being sparsely occupied. There was no sign of yesterday's dramatic events until, replying to Mr. Stanley Baldwin, Mr. MacDonald stated that the Government's Eviction Bill could not be re-introduced this session but that the Government thought it possible satisfactorily to amend the Liberal member Mr. E. D. Simons' Bill which reached its second reading last night and the passage of which the Government would facilitate after it had been satisfactorily amended.

The Government had not abandoned the proposal to make the assistance of unemployed a public charge but the "public funds" would be local funds.

LATER.

Mr. Simons' bill is almost identical with the Government's Eviction Bill except the clause on which the Government was defeated.

PROTECTING INDUSTRIES.

LONDON, April 8.

In the House of Commons in reply to questions, Mr. Sydney Webb, President of the Board of Trade stated that the Government had decided not to introduce legislation extending the duration of the provisions of part two of the Safeguarding of Industries Act providing duties to meet the case of depreciated currencies, which would accordingly lapse on August 10 (Liberal and Labour cheers.)

The Government had carefully considered the report of the committee recommending a duty of 33 1/2 per cent on lace, embroidery and silk but did not propose to ask Parliament to impose the duties (Ministerial cheers).

FRESH REVOLT.

MORE TROUBLE FOR SOVIETS

(Reuter's General Service.)

Riga, April 8.

It is reported from Moscow that a fresh revolt has broken out in Turkestan. The old revolutionaries are reinforced by well-armed forces, including 25,000 well-organised cavalry, also by artillery.

The insurgents are everywhere supported by the population. The Soviet Government is despatching considerable forces.

SINGAPORE QUERY.

(Reuter's American Service.)

Ottawa, April 8.

The former Premier, Mr. Meighan has given notice of a motion demanding all the correspondence between the British and Canadian Governments concerning the Singapore base.

THE STAR.

RUSSIAN BALLET DANCERS.

The Royal Russian Ballet engaged by the enterprising management of the Star Theatre took Kowloon by storm at their opening performance last night. Though the company took up only half of the programme, squeezing their effort in a thirty minute Ballet Revue, it was a crowded half hour and attractive from start to finish. Madam Linova in solo dances, the Misses Lantoff in Cossack dances, Miss Elena Tsurkov a graceful waltzer and Mr. Sergey Binoff, typical Russian performer, make up a combination which together with the Ballet Master are very well balanced and fully worth seeing. Besides the technical performance, the management offered Hoot Gibson's pictorial Comedy "Blinky", and consummate a enjoyable and diversified evening's entertainment.

The outside patrol of the bank to contend against. He bolted into Poochow Road and at top speed made his way westward along the street. A Sikh policeman, however, had caught sight of him and set off in pursuit, meanwhile blowing his whistle as loudly as possible.

The end now came. A Chinese constable on duty at the corner of Poochow and Seachuen Roads responded to the Sikh's whistle, intercepted the man's passage and between the two he was firmly collared. In his possession, it is understood, was found a long knife which he is said to have concealed in his sleeve. He was duly taken to the police station.

LEAGUE'S CHOICE.

Chinese Consortium Expert.

(Reuter's General Service.)

London, April 9.

The League of Nations has appointed the Boston financial expert, Mr. J. Smith, to be Commissioner General for the financial reconstruction of Hungary. Mr. Smith participated in the organisation of the Chinese Consortium.

ITALIAN POLITICS.

GOVERNMENT'S BIG MAJORITY.

(Reuter's General Service.)

Rome, April 9.

The new Chamber consists of the Government Party with 375 seats against 160 representing the eleven other parties. The populars now numbering forty, have lost sixty-six seats and the Democratic Socialists, now twenty-five, have lost fifty-seven.

APPEAL FOR LIFE.

PROFESSORS' REPRIEVE SOUGHT.

(Reuter's General Service.)

Paris, April 9.

M. Poincare has telegraphed M. Chicherin, Soviet Foreign Minister, declaring French public opinion gravely fears that the professors implicated in the trial at Kieff will suffer the death penalty. Their loss will cause great sorrow and will be regarded as a diminution in the world's intellectual patrimony. The French Government has asked the British and Italian Governments to make further appeals.

UNBURIED DEAD.

BESIEGED CITY'S TERRIBLE FLIGHT.

(Reuter's American Service.)

Washington, April 8.

Advices received by the State Department depict a serious state of affairs in the capital of Honduras.

The ground at the outskirts of the city is strewn with dead. Typhoid and dysentery are raging. No attempt is being made to inter or cremate the dead.

The city is still besieged and there is considerable hand-to-hand fighting.

HONGKONG WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9, 1924.

THE JURY SYSTEM AND ITS DEFECTS.

Long before the Romans coined their proverb men had found that it was human to err. Centuries hence they will still be facing the same fact, for nothing in the world can ever eliminate the human error. The dulcet manual labourer and the keenest brain worker are alike its victims. Our Henry Fords can train their men until they have almost become Robots—that is at their work, outside which they are even more prone to err than people whose work keeps their brains active the whole day. Among newspaper reporters there is an axiom that never yet have two people agreed upon all the details of a motor accident, and there is a classical example showing how even the most alert minds can be deceived by the very plainest facts. During the war, it is related, a quarrel suddenly arose between two scientists at a meeting being held in Paris. The quarrel had been pre-arranged, and the president of the meeting under pretence of obtaining legal evidence asked everyone present to write an exact report of what had happened. The assembly was composed entirely of jurists, psychologists and doctors, but only one report contained less than 20 per cent. of errors, thirteen had more than 50 per cent. of errors and thirty-four had invented between 10 and 15 per cent. of errors. When supposedly keen observers like scientists can be confounded by events happening under their very eyes, how much more likely are twelve men selected at random to go astray over incidents that they are not actually seeing for themselves but are merely hearing from the lips of others who are frequently labouring under strong emotions? There you have the fundamental defect of the jury system—the fundamental defect which, we think, renders undesirable the suggestion of a correspondent advanced in our columns yesterday. Pointing out that each member of the jury hears the facts as the case proceeds, our correspondent strongly deprecated any discussion among the jurors before reaching the verdict. He suggested that each man should write down his opinion—"guilty" or "not guilty"—and the folded slip should be handed to the foreman for him to read out in open court. This method, our correspondent urged, would secure a majority verdict based on the independent finding of each man. The plan has many good points since twelve men are unlikely all to fall into the same error and plausible oratory could find no outlet to sway the general decision; but there are several grave defects which would make its adoption a very doubtful expedient, quite apart from the fact that the existing system has been evolved through years of practical experience. Among any twelve men selected at random from a jury list it is inevitable that some should have keener intellects than others. Ability to sift evidence is given to the few, and jurors are notoriously timid in asking questions. Rather than interrupt the proceedings they will reserve until they reach the jury-room any points they cannot quite grasp. This is only natural—no man cares to risk making a fool of himself before a crowded court. Indeed there are men who would rather (though they do not always realise what their attitude means) hang someone first! The jury room discussion which our correspondent would sweep away enables these men to put their questions and receive their answers. Moreover it suggests to them angles that they had possibly overlooked, especially where the case is one in which facts are at issue and the judge can give little help in his summing-up. Room there may be to improve the jury system in certain respects—some would abolish it altogether—but it is not where our correspondent suggests. Human nature is still far too backward.

cent. of errors. When supposedly keen observers like scientists can be confounded by events happening under their very eyes, how much more likely are twelve men selected at random to go astray over incidents that they are not actually seeing for themselves but are merely hearing from the lips of others who are frequently labouring under strong emotions? There you have the fundamental defect of the jury system—the fundamental defect which, we think, renders undesirable the suggestion of a correspondent advanced in our columns yesterday. Pointing out that each member of the jury hears the facts as the case proceeds, our correspondent strongly deprecated any discussion among the jurors before reaching the verdict. He suggested that each man should write down his opinion—"guilty" or "not guilty"—and the folded slip should be handed to the foreman for him to read out in open court. This method, our correspondent urged, would secure a majority verdict based on the independent finding of each man. The plan has many good points since twelve men are unlikely all to fall into the same error and plausible oratory could find no outlet to sway the general decision; but there are several grave defects which would make its adoption a very doubtful expedient, quite apart from the fact that the existing system has been evolved through years of practical experience. Traffic Sense. The Chinese are credited with having no traffic sense in that they do not appreciate keeping to the pavements and love to sprawl themselves across the road. An observation of any of our roads proves that this contention has a great deal of truth in it. Whether the lack of this sense is hereditary or is a local condition it is difficult to judge. We are almost inclined to say it is acquired. For one thing—and perhaps this is the chief reason—Hongkong side walks do not permit of comfortable use. In numbers of cases they do not appear to exist; in others their width is almost microscopic; whilst generally the roadway provides a better foothold. We recommend any Government official, especially one connected with our Public Works Department to walk on the pavement of such a thoroughfare as d'Aguilar Street, to prove our contention. For the European there may be no excuse; but early on the custom of a more or less free use of the roadway becomes a second nature. It is obviously more comfortable even if more dangerous. A habit acquired in Hongkong is not lost when one migrates to Kowloon and we can well understand the C.S.P.s. complaint regarding those who occupy the middle of roads in preference to sidewalks; although there is no excuse, for Kowloon's side walks are fairly numerous and broad. We can only urge the C.S.P.s. request to the notice of those concerned and trust that in future the road will be eschewed in favour of the sidewalk.

A Ferry Question.

We cannot remember if Mr. Robert Sutherland's Scheme for one wharf for all river steamers, included provision for the ferries which cross to various parts of the island and the mainland. It has occurred to us that either one wharf might be made available for all ferries, or more detailed information be made available for the European who may at odd times desire to visit one or other of the places available. It seems to be a waste of time for the ferry to Cheung Chau to be at one end of the Praya and that for Kowloon City to be at the other. That may be a small point and one that need not engage the attention of the Secretary of State for the Colonies. Our other point is that some spot should be available to acquaint those who may need the information, where they may find a ferry, where it goes and at what hour. The Post Office would appear to meet the case, and here changes in time of sailings, whenever made, could be noted. In the summer, many residents we feel sure, would probably like to make one or more of these trips and thus get acquainted with spots hitherto outside their ken.

Whether the frequent references in the China Mail to the question of offering a welcome to Rabindranath Tagore have borne fruit or not is beside the point. It is satisfactory to note that someone at last has awakened to the fact that Dr. Tagore is worthy of recognition, and that our University authorities bestirred themselves somewhat. If Mr. Hornell has not known the distinguished passenger through we wonder if any effort would have been made. It is interesting by the way to note that the distinguishing "Sir" seems to have fallen into disuse and that Tagore is content with the easier sounding title of Doctor.

Our Tennis tournament reminds us of Suzanne Lenglen and the stories which circulate concerning her alleged bad temper. It is reported that Madame will not play at Wimbledon on account of the unfair treatment she alleges an English referee accorded her at Mentone. We shall see. Suzanne is not likely to add to her popularity by calling the English pigs. And this is regrettable, because, although we say it ourselves, an English crowd dearly loves a player who is first and last a sport and who, when the licking comes along, takes it in good part.

Different countries have their own way of indicating the foreigner and investing the word with a measure of meaning which is very often obnoxious. The Chinese equivalent of "Foreign devil" is tolerably well known. Whether it is meant to be as obnoxious as it undoubtedly was in the early days of its use, we do not know, but as devil is a fearsome person in the Chinese mind, another term might well be employed. The Australian uses "Kommie" to indicate either the English immigrant or the English visitor, or both. A Turk uses the word yabanji—a wild man, and there are instances in the past to indicate that the Turk treated the stranger as such, unless the stranger was strong enough to resent this kind of treatment effectively. The Greeks designate all foreigners as "Caraboi." The American uses a variety of nicknames to indicate the stranger, and most of us are familiar with "dago" and the like. Perhaps there is a sense of homesickness about a nickname, but to indicate an Italian by the term "dago" is at once offensive and untrue. A step towards general peace might be the elimination of names to foreigners which are offensive.

It is good to read of the efforts of the League of Nations to bring a little sunshine, in their own way and according to their own lights, into the lives of those less fortunate. Miss Anne Kinaird, the daughter of a Lord, joins the Salvation Army and is not afraid or ashamed to wheel and turn the handle of a barrel organ during a self-declared "walk" and to go into the slums. The Marchioness of Townshend is engaged in another direction and has formed The United Family League, which stands further the spirit of brotherhood and sisterhood throughout the nation. Her own words best explain the object of the League:—"For years, I have been holding little family parties in Hampstead for my friends, the poor people, and very happy gatherings they have been. We all know each other and help each other, and I think that if such parties are a success in one area they should be all over the country. It seems such a tragedy that, while during the war all religions fought together and welcomed each other with the hand of friendship, immediately the Armistice was sounded we all fell back into that regrettable state of being better than each other.

"It seemed to me that the great house of unity which we had built had been suddenly destroyed, and one day when pondering over this question I picked up the Bible and opened it in a portion of Kings where I noticed the phrase, 'Rebuild the house.' This recalled to my mind a play I wrote many years ago, and I felt that I had indeed a message, so I immediately set about my project, 'The United Family League,' the slogan of which is 'Rebuild the house.'"

We aim at creating friendship throughout the length and breadth of England, a spiritual friendship with only one creed—that of faith and service. We hope to foster the spirit of loyalty to the King and the British Empire and to strengthen the bond of union between its various parts, believing that under God our Empire is one of the main powers on earth for the furtherance of peace and good will.

"I am sure the glorious spirit of the war still exists, but it is scattered throughout the land. We hope to find a home for this spirit and to use it to the best advantage. I have had tremendous encouragement from everyone to whom I have mentioned the United Family League. There is hope for the lifted classes when they are found engaged in such eminently desirable objects as this League seems to be."

To-day's Poem.

(Fuji-San.)
Where fertile Kai out-stretches on one hand,
And on the other, broad Suruga-Land.
Out of their midst, beyond the ken of man,
Rises the glorious peak of Fuji-San.
The clouds themselves can hardly climb its height;
The birds but skirt its sides in soaring flight.
Its fire is quenched with ever-falling snow.
Its snows are melted by a quenchless flame;
I find no word to tell of it; no name
To call it by.
O peak of Fuji, in Suruga-Land,
Fuji-no-yama, I could stand
And gaze on thee forever and forever

WHY?

And why do they break a bottle of wine before the ship is launched? Why, for the same reason that Polycares threw his ring into the sea: to pay toll to Nemesias. We say to Nemesias: "I will give you this and you must be satisfied with it. Take my wine, but take no more from me." This is why the Jews, loyal to ancient usage, break a cup when they get married. And the broken bottle is but the trick of a child or a savage, the artifice of Man—poor, simple soul—endeavouring to hoodwink Fate. —Pierre Noziere, Anatole France.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Internal injuries were sustained by an 18-year old Chinese boy who jumped off a moving tram at Causeway Bay Road yesterday.

The Prince Regent, says a Tokyo message to the Daily Bulletin yesterday morning, granted an audience to Chang Chien, inn., and the other members of the Chinese Mission.

From the second floor of No. 4, Percival Street, Ping Yu, a house-boy, fourteen years of age, fell into the street below. He was taken to the Government Civil Hospital where he died from his injuries this morning.

Gaining access through the roof trap-door, burglars entered the second floor of No. 14, Bonham Strand West, occupied by a firm of sugar dealers, and stole $343.25 in money, jewellery and clothing.

A letter from Major-General Sir John Fowler K.C.M.G., Commanding H. M. Forces in China, informs the Shanghai Municipal Council that he will be able to conduct the Annual Inspection of the Corps from May 21 to May 23 inclusive.

The H.M.S. "Ambrose" Social Club held a successful carnival dance at the R. N. Canteen Theatre last Friday and to meet the popular demand for more have arranged a Cinderella Dance for Friday, April 11. Prizes for the Spot Waltz competition were won by Miss Weeding and Mr. Guard. The Black Cat band supplied the music.

The China Mail has been authoritatively informed that a complete set of newly made brass keys, fitting all the grille locks of s.s. "Tai Lee" were discovered yesterday on a foki in the employ of the comprador of that ship. Owing to the frequent changes of officers it is impossible to prosecute, but the discovery of these keys furnishes an illuminating example of the uselessness of any form of control when such things are allowed to happen. The ship will not be allowed to sail until all the locks have been replaced.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

A Reuter cable from Bucharest states that Prince Naruhiko Higashi-kuni has departed for Paris.

Governor Dirk Fock, from Java, who was entertained by Governor-General Wood yesterday, is, according to a Manila message to the Daily Bulletin, touring the Philippine Islands in return for Governor-General Wood's recent visit to Java.

Lady Stubbs, who on returning to Shanghai from her recent visit to Peking was found to be suffering from an attack of influenza, came back to the Colony yesterday by the "Haruma Maru." Her many friends will be glad to know that she has now almost completely recovered.

A very quiet but pretty wedding was celebrated at St. Joseph's Church, Shanghai, Father Macdonald officiating, when Miss Mary Erwin Gamache, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Anthony Camacho of New York, became the bride of Mr. Arthur John Martin, second son of Mr. T. P. Martin of Muswell Hill, London. The bridegroom is the Senior British Assessor of the Mixed Court and a member of the Consular Service.

OUR SOCIAL EVIL. THOSE RECENT COMMONS QUESTIONS.

INTERESTING COMMENT.

The telegram from London about the Hongkong brothels, published recently has drawn some interesting comment from the "Japan Chronicle." The "Chronicle" observes that the telegram is liable to be misunderstood. Mr. Thomas's explanation that the system, while in a measure under the Government control, was regulated for "purely protective" purposes was greeted with cries of "Oh." It is true that the Anti-Slavery and Aborigines' Protection Society, whose inquiries of a year ago doubtless formed the basis of the question asked by a Labour member of the House of Commons, considers the system practised "disgraceful to a British colony." But it is virtue itself compared with the exaction of public revenue from vice, as in Japan and other places. A Hongkong official passes a girl for the trade after trying to ascertain that she is not forced into it and that she is not too young. Then he gives her a card, with the following sentences in Chinese: "The British Government has for its main object the love of the people. You prostitutes: Your persons are your own. You can come or go away at liberty. If any extortion or oppression is imposed on you, you can report it to the authorities, and you will get your wrongs redressed." This information was sent to Lord Henry Bentinck, chairman of the Anti-Slavery Society, last September along with further explanations from the Governor of Hongkong, who commented as follows, according to a letter from the Colonial Office:—

Generally speaking, the Hongkong method is based on a recognition of the impossibility of stamping out prostitution, and on the theory that, while completely unregulated prostitution would have the worst effects, Government control should be reduced to the smallest possible limit. Such control takes the line of prevention of actual crime: of enforcing responsibilities (on those in charge of prostitutes): of securing freedom of action to those who are allowed to practice prostitution; and of seeing that those who are for any reason considered unfit (e.g., too young) shall not practice. There is the smallest possible interference with those who are supposed to know their own minds and whose prostitution does not involve others; and Government "regulation" becomes merely a broad supervision against abuse. It is the opinion of the Secretary for Chinese Affairs that the records of his Office and of the Police Office show that the system is not unsuccessful, and that a comparison between the streets of Hongkong at night time and those of almost any city at home would be all in favour of the Colony. The Colony's reputation in China also stands high; the Hongkong "customs are good" is a phrase constantly heard, not from the prostitutes only (when it means that their freedom is assured and that they are accorded consideration in any trouble) but also from responsible Chinese, who speak with a knowledge of the conditions elsewhere and a realisation of the necessity for keeping up the standard of Chinese family life.

Prostitution, wherever it exists, is ugly and has some taint of slavery. Even where absolute suppression is nominally practised it is only half-hearted, and one may doubt whether the evil is less in London than in Hongkong. However, official sanction, even without the infinitely worse thing—official gain from the girls' shame—gives the business a standing it would not otherwise possess.

MAGISTRATE PUZZLED. COMPLICATED HOUSING LAWS.

"I have never discovered where the Sanitary Department ends and where the Building Authority begins," said Mr. E. W. Hamilton during the hearing of some departmental summonses at the Police Court this morning. Opening his defence, Mr. C.A.S. Russ quoted from a copy of the Ordinance and said that in this case the Sanitary authorities had no more right to send out notices than he had. This drew the remark from Mr. E. W. Hamilton: "after which the hearing was adjourned till next week." It is interesting to note that Mr. Hamilton has been previously attached to the Sanitary Department. If we remember rightly he acted as outdoor head of the department.—Ed. China Mail.

"HEUNGSHAN" INQUIRY.

NO LIGHT ON JUNK ROCK STATES PILOT.

RIVER BOAT BEACHING SEQUEL.

No light on Junk Rock was stated by the No. 1 Chinese pilot to have been the cause of the accident which resulted in the beaching of the s.s. "Heungshan" on February 29, at the Board of Trade Inquiry opened at the Harbour Office this morning.

Members of the Court were Lieut. Commander Conway Hake R.N.R., (President) Lt.-Com. F.J.H. Dawson R.N., (H.M.S. "Moorhen") Mr. W. Davison (Marine Superintendent C.P.S.), Capt. P. Goings of the s.s. "Charles Hardouin," and Capt. J. H. Woolcott of the s.s. "Paul Beau."

Mr. G. K. Hall Brutton appeared for the China Coast Officers Guild and Captain Dawson of the "Heungshan"; Mr. D. H. Blake represented the Navigators and General Insurance Co., and the Chief Officer, and Mr. Eldon Potter appeared for the Hongkong, Canton and Macao Steamboat Co., original owners of the "Heungshan."

Before the preliminary evidence was called, the President of the Court read a letter from Capt. Thomas which contained his request to hold an inquiry.

THE PILOT'S VERSION.

The first witness called was the No. 1 pilot on the "Heungshan" who said that he passed his examination in March this year.

Describing in detail the progress of the vessel up the Canton River, the pilot went on to say that they came across no fog until they had passed Tiger Island at 3.08 a.m., and from there they started using the fog signal. Before reaching Blake Point the Captain told him that if they could not see the Blake Point lights, they had better anchor as the fog was too thick. They passed the point, however, at 3.25 a.m. at slow speed; sometimes it was clear and sometimes it was foggy, continued the witness.

The pilot continued after describing the various points they passed that at Tai Shai-tao, he told the Captain that if he wanted to anchor, it would be better there as there was no current and the place was safe from pirates. Here, said the witness, his usual course was S.W. by S.W.S. but he altered the course to S.W.S. His reason for altering the course, explained the pilot to Mr. Hall Brutton, was that while he was awaiting the Captain's answer regarding his suggestion to anchor, it was time for the ship's course to be altered. Then the Chief Officer shouted out there were three sampans ahead and after steering clear of these, he heard the Chief Officer shout there were more sampans. The Master gave the order to starboard the helm and witness told the quarter master "to port."

Asked why he gave this order, which countermanded the Captain's order the pilot said they always passed the north side of the buoy. He gave the order to port at the moment the Chief Officer shouted out "the buoy." The ship struck and the Captain gave the order to stop the engines. Immediately afterwards, he heard the Chief Officer tell the Captain that he was going to find the carpenter and inspect the leakage. The ship took a list and the Captain said the vessel had better be beached. The orders "go slow ahead" and "hard a port" were given and just as the ship was astern the order was given to go "hard astern" in order to prevent the ship from going "dead on."

Witness said that there was no light on Junk Rock; he did not see one at any time that night, neither were there lights on the sampans they passed.

Mr. Potter:—Was it customary on the "Heungshan" for you to give orders?—Yes.

Without consulting the officer on the bridge?—If the Captain is on the bridge I consult him, but not the Chief Officer.

Even to the extent of countermanding the Captain's orders?—Yes.

Then you say that if the Captain gives the order to starboard and you order "to port" it is up to the quartermaster to do as he pleases?—Yes.

Can you tell me what was the cause of the accident?—Firstly, the rock did not show a light.

From the time they reached Tai Shai-tao, to the time of the accident they could not see above 100 yards ahead said the pilot. The only reason the "Heungshan" had the rock on her starboard side was because she was on her wrong course.

The quartermaster, of the "Heungshan" who was next called to give evidence said that his experience extended only three months on that vessel.

Just before the accident, he received the order to "starboard the helm" from the Captain and the order to "port the helm" from the pilot. He obeyed the Captain's order. (Case proceeding.)

BOUND FOR AMERICA.

PHILIPPINE INDEPENDENCE MISSION.

ARRIVAL AT HONGKONG.

Mission to Washington Arrives at Hongkong.

To secure fulfilment of the promise of independence for the Philippines made by the United States Government, a Philippine Mission headed by Senator M. L. Quezon has set out for Washington and yesterday arrived at Hongkong. Besides Senator

Manuel Quezon

Quezon who is President of the Philippine Senate the Mission includes Hon. Sergio Osmena, Senator from Cebu, and Hon. Claro M. Recto, representative from Batangas, Members, and Mr. Francisco Zamora, Secretary. With the Mission is Sr. Pulamu Rasul, son of Senator Hadji Butu, a young American educated Mohammedan Filipino, who is highly popular among his people throughout Mindanao and Sulu.

According to a Reuter cable, the Conservatives in Congress are working out a proposal which may be submitted to the President soon, placing the Philippines under a condition similar to Cuba, which under the Platt Amendment grants the United States intervention rights. If the President regards it favourably, the Bill will be introduced as soon as possible.

Reports that sugar interests are withdrawing from the Philippines, fearing the result of a plebiscite, are denied.

At the present time the sugar interests, both in the United States and in the Philippines, play a big part in the political field, and their retirement would, it is believed in some quarters, be rather beneficial to the Filipinos than otherwise, as it would relieve the government from that undue pressure now brought to bear upon it. It is pointed out that America has vast investments in China and other places where the American flag does not fly, and where American institutions are not as deeply rooted as in the Philippines, but such investments are properly protected by the real and effective power of the United States without the need of American occupation.

Senator Quezon and his party are travelling by the s.s. "President Jackson" which is due to leave for Shanghai to-morrow morning.

BILLIARDS TOURNEY.

SEMI-FINALS DECIDED.

At the V.R. C. last night, the second semi-final in the local billiards open championship was decided. P. Yvanovich met and defeated K. K. Leung in a game of 1,000 up by 142 points. The winner, who is a former champion, was behind at the interval but taking advantage of Leung not being able to get going, he took the lead and maintained it to the end. Towards the end Leung improved but could not make up the leeway.

Highest breaks were:—Yvanovich 51, 44, 38 (2), 31 (2), 26, 24, 22 (2).
Leung 45, 42 (2), 38, 28, 26, 24, 23, 22 (2), 20.

R. F. Luz is in the top bracket of the final having defeated S. C. Kwok who had made the highest break to date (75). Luz and Yvanovich will therefore meet in the final.

INTERVIEWS REFUSED.

DR. TAGORE HOLDS HIMSELF ALOOF.

LOCAL PRESSMEN REFUSED.

Dr. Tagore, Indian poet and litterateur, has refused flatly to be interviewed by members of the Press. When a China Mail representative made his second excursion to the "Atsuta Maru" lying in Kowloon Dock yesterday afternoon in response to a cryptic message to the effect that Dr. Tagore could be interviewed at 3 p.m., he found Dr. Tagore, but was refused even a minute's conversation. The distinguished Indian poet's secretary explained that Dr. Tagore had been so often misrepresented in his views by the Press that he had decided to grant no interviews in future.

When the China Mail representative pleaded for "just half an hour" the Indian followers, friends and admirers, surrounding the poet outside his cabin were against. Two minutes they said was the most. But even two minutes was denied. The secretary volunteered to give any information that might be wanted, but it was the personality of the famous writer the Press men desired to gain a glimpse of, to enable the public to have some impressions of an Indian whose eminence is undisputed.

Dr. Tagore left by the s.s. "Atsuta Maru" this morning for Shanghai, from where he will proceed to Peking on the invitation of the National University. It is possible that Dr. Tagore will return to Hongkong after a visit to Japan, and give a series of lectures.

The Poet's Companions.

Dr. Tagore is accompanied by the following:—

K. M. Sen, professor of Sanskrit and pundit at Vishwa Bahini.
N. L. Bosh, head of the Art department at the University.

K. Neg, on the staff of the Calcutta University, a member of Vishwa Bahini, and travelling as representative of the Calcutta University.

Maharat Kumeroz, of Jambui, a native state in Kathiawar.

Miss Green, who is in charge of the dispensary in the Rural Reconstruction Department of the University. She treated about 8,000 village cases during last year.

Prof. L. K. Elmhirst, director of the Institute of Rural Reconstruction at the University.

Dr. Tagore's Message.

Dr. Rabindranath Tagore, replying to the address presented to him at the Jubilee Hall, Hongkong, on March 24, said he wished he had the means in his power to address them adequately for the honour they had done him that evening. Unfortunately for him the language in which he had to express his feelings of gratitude was not his own. However, he had obtained some reputation for the mastery of it and he would endeavour to drain his poorly equipped mind to reply to the address of welcome. He however felt very humble as he did not deserve such honour.

He had often thought that possibly people had made a mistake and did not know his limitations and thought he was a Saint or Prophet or someone belonging to a very superior race of humanity; he was nothing of the kind. He was not a politician or a general, he was a mere poet and if he might say so he was a lover of men and had come to claim love from them. He believed that honour was for the dead and love for the living. He wished this was not a flying visit, he wished he had time to stay on in this land and come to know the people intimately and talk to them through his heart in something which they would appreciate. In the present day of speedy locomotion the temptation for a man was to rush through space. He was also following that course, he was simply rushing through this beautiful land and had not the opportunity of really knowing the people belonging to the country, because if he did he could prove his real worth, which was that of a poet who wished to delight the hearts of all men. What he wished they had done, instead of putting him on the platform was to have asked him to sit amongst them. Every country, he said, produced something which belonged to the whole world; it was not military power, nor political strength, but some of the great ideals which come from the heights of consciousness of the people and which were always illuminating. They all knew what had happened in a great age in their country when messengers from India crossed deserts, insurmountable hills and went into distant parts of the world and took something to these people, which truly belonged to all people, which was the common inheritance of humanity, some ideal from the heart of India. It was on this ideal of ideals that they could build a relationship between countries which would last for ever. Countries which could only boast of wealth and power were read and dark.

He stood for universal brotherhood and was not in any way swayed by the cries of Hindu Mahatmas. His message was "Let ideal India live in the hearts of all men" (Applause). It was his good fortune to have in his young brought out this spirit and succeeded in establishing it in the hearts of all men.

EXILE KING.

STRONG PROTEST AGAINST DEPOSITION.

(Reuter's General Service.)

Bucharest, April 8.

In an impassioned despatch to the Greek people, the exiled King George demands to be restored to the monarchy.

King George II of Greece

He declares that the violent suppression of the principles on which the State is founded impels him to protest against the iniquity committed against the nation and demand the free exercise of the rights and duties of royalty as laid down in the constitution.

RADIO FOR HONGKONG.

WHY WE CAN'T HAVE IT.

HOME AUTHORITIES' BAN.

Yesterday the "China Mail" published an interview with Dr. F. H. Kew, founder of the Radio Communication Company, who complained that an ambitious scheme of radio communication planned for Hongkong had had to be abandoned by his concern because of the discouraging attitude of the Hongkong Government.

Questioned regarding this today the Colonial Secretary (the Hon. Sir Claud Severn) referred a reporter to Mr. L. H. King, who had, he said, come out from Home recently to act as adviser to the Hongkong Government regarding wireless and electrical matters generally and knew all about it.

Mr. King, when interviewed on the subject, was not disposed to treat Dr. Kew's complaint very seriously. "It has already been announced at least half a dozen times," he pointed out, "that no broadcasting can be allowed until the Imperial authorities' ban on it is lifted. As soon as that is done you won't see me for dust."

An esteemed member of the Danish community at Shanghai, Mr. Adolf C. Z. Frisenette, died on Friday in the Isolation Hospital, the cause of death being spinal meningitis. The deceased, who was 45 years of age, joined the Great Northern Telegraph Co. in Denmark 25 years ago and arrived in China in 1901, remaining on the Shanghai station for the greater part of his service. He was a very popular member of the staff and had many friends among the foreign community, particularly as a member of the Shanghai Club.

He would feel deeply grateful and if that happened he was blessed. He did not like to boast and he asked them not to boast of his invitation to go to China. He did not feel at all excited at this invitation; he was not certain whether they would accept him or reject him; it did not matter, he had a mission to fulfil. He feared that the people in China were obsessed by political success as his own country and they might not listen to the voice which came from the glorious past of India. He was going there because he felt that it was his mission. He asked that the spirit of comradeship should prevail although they were divided from other countries by space and racial distinctions. In this connection the speaker referred to the institution he had founded to which he had invited the whole world. He said he was trying to give material shape to this message of comradeship and he claimed their sympathy and co-operation. He hoped before he died to have fulfilled his mission and thus save his country from the doom of obscurity. (Applause.)

MOTOR BUS DEATHS.

DRIVERS CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER.

Charges of manslaughter have been preferred against the two motor-bus drivers who are alleged to have driven the buses which collided at the bridge in the Ping Shan district on Sunday afternoon when a boy-scout and others were killed. They appeared before Mr. R. E. Lindsell and were remanded.

Two other bus drivers who are accused of having been on bus No. 1,206 when it ran off the road and turned over at Tsun Wan on Sunday morning also appeared before the Magistrate. They were both charged with failing to report an accident. One had an additional charge of making away with $2.10 of his employers' money and the other was accused of driving the bus without the owners' permission.

The charges are being taken together and the case was remanded till Friday, bail being allowed in the sum of $500 each.

INJURED MAKING GOOD PROGRESS.

Inquiry at the Kwong Wah Hospital this afternoon brought a statement from Dr. Ip that both the woman and the boy who were admitted to the Hospital on Sunday afternoon in a dangerous condition have made remarkable progress towards recovery. The patients who were admitted for minor injuries are also improving.

UNTIMELY LAUGH.

When Pedro Rose and Ramon Eharc, Filipinos, stepped into Mr. R. E. Lindsell's Court at the Magistracy this morning to face charges of stowing away on the "President Lincoln" from Manila they were reprimanded by His Worship who told them not to laugh as the Court was not a theatre.

Defendants who stated that they wanted to go to San Francisco were each sentenced to three weeks' imprisonment.

SHOULD BE HAUNTED.

SON WHO DUMPED MOTHER'S BODY.

That the spirit would haunt him was the hope Mr. R. E. Lindsell expressed this morning to a prisoner who was convicted of dumping the dead body of his mother.

Defendant was prosecuted by Sergeant James of Aberdeen Station for dumping the body and failing to report the death. Arrest was effected on the evidence of a man who was supposed to have helped the prisoner and the fact that two ropes were attached to the body.

He was taking his mother to Aberdeen, said defendant, when she became seriously ill. He then decided to take her back but she died on the Deep Water Bay Road. As he had no clansman to help him he had to leave the body there.

His Worship told defendant that he was a bad son and fined him $40 and $20 respectively, on the two charges.

Some of our older readers, says the China Express, will remember when Sir John Pope-Hennessy was Governor of Hongkong, and his little boy. That boy is now Colonel Pope-Hennessy, D.S.O., who has been chosen as the head of the British part of the Allied Mission which is now to resume the supervision of German disarmament. The son of Sir John, who in his day was also a figure of note in Irish politics, has been an Army man all his life. In East Africa and Somaliland he served under "Johnny" Gough. He is very level-headed, and has the double advantage of knowing Germany and the German, and of hitting it off with his French and Belgian colleagues. His interests stretch far beyond soldiering, though he often writes for the reviews on military subjects. The pursuit of Chinese pottery is his chief hobby, and he is one of the very few men who set themselves, when over forty, to master the Chinese language. His wife, Dame Una, is a brilliant writer and a real authority on the politics and personalities of the French Revolution.

CHEFOO NOTES.

PRETTY CUSTOMS WEDDING.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

CHEFOO, March 25.
St. Andrew's Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, March 15, when Mr. Sydney Kitson, of the Chinese Maritime Customs, was married to Madame Karolina Alnberg, a young widow from Shanghai. After the wedding, which was performed by the Rev. C. R. Burnett, of Wei-hai-wei, a reception was held at the Customs Club, where Mr. A. J. Whitmore, the best man, toasted the bride and bridegroom. At the ceremony were a large number of the Customs' Staff as well as other friends. Mr. A. E. Clayton gave away the bride; the Misses Weinglass acted as bridesmaids, while little Miss Yolande Bartolini made a very pretty train-bearer.

Unfortunately on Saturday, March 15, the Chefoo Football Club were unable to turn out a team to play the C.I.M. Boys' School. The School however managed to arrange for a game against a team turned out by the Chinese Staff of Messrs. James McMullan and Co., Ltd. The Chinese played a fine game, and scored the first goal from a really brilliant piece of play. The boys then got together better and soon evened up the score. After half-time the Chinese players, owing to lack of sufficient practice, showed signs of weakening, and the School soon increased its lead, the final score being School, 4 goals, the Chinese team, 1. The game was thoroughly enjoyed by both players and onlookers, the Chinese team playing a real sporting game right to the end.

A paper hunt took place on Sunday, March 16, when owing to the excellent course laid by Mr. Villers, and the lovely weather, all present voted it the best yet held. Mr. Swaney was the first home, followed by Mr. Donald and Miss Sugden, who fought hard for second place. Mr. Donald eventually gained that position.

On the evening of St. Patrick's Day the Fancy Dress Club held a Fancy Dress Dance, which a large number of the community attended. Prizes were awarded for the best costumes, the ladies' prize going to Countess O'Kelly, while Mr. V. R. Eckford won the one for the gentlemen.

The Chefoo Volunteer Fire Brigade has recently been reorganised, and on Saturday afternoon, March 22, the members held their first practice parade, under the direction of their Captain, Mr. A. R. Hogg. Both the foreign officers and the Chinese firemen turned out well, and an interesting display took place before a large number of spectators.

Bright sunshine tempered the coldish wind on Sunday afternoon, March 23 and thus made the paper hunt very pleasant. Mr. Swaney, as last week's winner, laid the course; and after an interesting and enjoyable ride it looked as if Miss E. Sugden was going to be a fairly easy winner. Her horse however swerved right off the last jump and lost Miss Sugden the privilege of laying the next hunt. Mr. Hogg now led the field, and came in first, while Messrs. Villers and Donald were second and third respectively. Miss Sugden, who is a first-class horse-woman, as she proved when she won the Championships in our autumn gymkhana, has suffered from a series of slight mishaps in the hunts so far, but we wish her better luck in the remaining hunts.

On Monday evening, March 24, Mr. J. N. Duncan, M.A., gave an interesting and instructive lecture on "The Trojan War" at the C.I.M. Boys' School where many of the scholars from the Boys and Girls Schools and friends were present.

"PARTED CURTAINS."

ABSORBING CORONET PICTURE.

Human interest is the keynote of the Coronet Theatre's feature attraction, this evening—human interest with romance, humour, pathos and adventure, skilfully admixed. "Parted Curtains" comes from the Warner Brothers studio and that fact alone bespeaks its quality. With the acting in the hands of a cast, led by Henry B. Walthall and Mary Alden, little further warranty is required, except to mention that the story is most engrossing. Indeed it might have delighted that supreme master O. Henry, for it has all the appeal and glamour of real life. To tell it in detail here would be to anticipate the pleasure of hundreds who will see it during the next few days, but mention may be made that the central figure is a young man who has served seven years' jail to shield a friend and is now striving to start life anew. Dramatic events follow his attempt to hold up a wealthy artist with a toy pistol after hunger has reduced him to desperation, and the romance which then begins is one of love, treachery and sacrifice, with here a dash of humour and there a spice of excitement. Everything comes right, of course, and the spectator's enjoyment of an absorbing story is thus neatly capped. "Parted Curtains" is a picture that is bound to have a wide appeal owing to its many sterling qualities.

BONNIEST BABY.

NOVEL WEMBLEY STUNT.

In connection with the forthcoming British Empire Exhibition at Wembley, the National Baby Week Council are holding an Imperial Baby Week during the fourth week in July at the Exhibition and a feature of the "stunt" is to be an "Empire's Bonniest Baby" Competition which is open to children born of British subjects throughout the Empire. The competition is to be conducted by means of photograph accompanied by a Score Sheet on which will appear details regarding the child's physical condition and which is to be signed by a doctor. Prizes will be awarded by a special committee of judges. As far as possible the organisation of sub-competitions is proceeding in the Dominions but where no such arrangement has been made entries should be forwarded direct to the National Baby Week Council, 117, Piccadilly, W. 1, London. Hongkong parents should note that entries from overseas must reach Home by June 25 next.

MALE VOICE CHOIR.

ANOTHER SUCCESS LAST NIGHT.

The Hongkong Male-Voice Choir directed by Mr. S. Collett scored another success at the Helena May Institute last evening. Proceeds of the concert should greatly benefit the Fresh Air Fund. On a well selected programme the numbers which proved most popular were the part songs "Serenade" (Busse), "O Peaceful Night" (German), "In Absence" (Dudley Buck), and the lighter pieces, "Beleaguered" (Sullivan), "Rolling down to Rio" (German), and the "Song of the Jolly Rodger" (Chudleigh Candish).

Several individual items added to the evening's enjoyment. Mrs. Douglas Reid's selections "Who is Sylvia" and "At the Window" were particularly good. Mr. W. C. Abrams was to have contributed two violin solos, but he was unfortunately indisposed and in hospital. Mr. W. Gill with the monologue "The Saint and the Sinner," and Mr. and Mrs. Collett, in a little duet from Tom Jones, proved excellent substitutes.

COLONY'S HEALTH.

SANITARY BOARD'S WEEKLY MEETING.

At the weekly meeting of the Sanitary Board held yesterday afternoon under the chairmanship of Mr. N. L. Smith, a motion was submitted by D. W. V. M. Koch emphasizing the need of further health districts.

Dr. Koch's resolution was: "In view of the rapid increase of Urban areas in districts which were formerly Rural, this Board is of opinion that further Health Districts are necessary, and the present ones rearranged with the provision of additional staff."

Supporting his motion, the doctor said that when a city became overcrowded, new areas had to be taken in. New lots had been sold for building purposes close to the confines of the city. These lots were outside the Board's practical sanitary control. The object of the motion was to regularise the matter and put these outside areas under the same control as the city itself. He agreed that if the sanitary areas were rearranged a larger staff would be required, and he thought the Board would be justified in asking for additional men, particularly another Assistant Medical Officer of Health.

In seconding, Mr. C. G. Alabaster said he would like to see the whole of the Colony divided into health districts. The activities of the Department ought not to be confined to a few crowded districts.

The Chairman replied that the Department could not accept the motion exactly as it stood. If they did it would be an accusation that they were not keeping pace with the needs of the Colony, and a reflection upon the Board's activities of the past. It seemed to him that as a general rule the Board had confined themselves to European style houses. A good example was Aberdeen, where they had side by side the ordinary village house, with which the Board had not previously interfered, and large tenements of the urban style. When such houses were put up in any numbers, there was no doubt the Board must take action.

Mr. Smith submitted that they were keeping pace with the spread of the city. In 1915 there were 30 inspectors; in 1920, 33, and the number had increased year by year until now there were 40.

Dr. W. W. Pearce (Medical Officer of Health) said that when he first came to the Colony there were only two health districts in Kowloon as compared with six now, and in Hongkong there were 10, whereas there were 11 now, and with Shaikwan and Aberdeen the number would be increased to 13. That made 19 inspectors as compared with 12 some 15 or 16 years ago.

Dr. Koch withdrew his resolution adding that he was sorry the Chairman should think it reflected on the Department. It was not his intention to do any such thing, but rather to increase the efficiency of the Department. The population had increased out of all proportion to the increase in the number of inspectors, and he certainly thought that not only did they require a larger staff of sanitary inspectors, but a third assistant medical officer as well.

Dr. Koch then asked:—(i) "What steps are taken for the inspection of meat sold in markets in Rural areas—as in Aberdeen and Shaikwan?" (ii) Are the Sanitary Inspectors in such districts qualified meat inspectors?"

The Chairman replied, in regard to the first question that the same procedure of inspection was adopted at the markets mentioned as at other markets, and periodical inspections were held there as elsewhere. The answer to the second question he said, was in the negative. At Aberdeen the present rural inspector had no qualifications as a meat inspector whatever. The certificates granted to Inspectors of Nuisances, such as were held by all Inspectors, asked for a knowledge of the inspection of slaughter-houses, a knowledge of good and bad food and the inspection of food.

CHINA'S FINANCES.

LONDON, April 8.

Liáng Shi-yi, in a Reuter interview dealing with Chinese Finance, said that foreign capital was welcome, but only on conditions which must benefit both parties, and not be one-sided. He was of opinion that preference should be given to Chinese products, but did not object to the employment of suitable labour from abroad.

He advocated that the Government should build the railways, and the people provide the rolling stock and locomotives. Thus, even with its present capital, the Government could construct twice the present length of line, and save time. Mr. Liang will be banqueting with the Legation and Chinese students, and is to stay six weeks in England. He will then tour the Continent, returning home via America.—Reuter.

REPARATIONS.

EXPERTS' REPORTS FORECASTED.

Paris, April 8.

The first report of the experts on Reparations, to be published tomorrow, is a huge document of sixty pages. According to forecast it proposes that Germany should immediately pay 10 milliard gold marks, also annual payments of between a minimum of 1,400 millions and a maximum of 2,000 millions of gold marks.

Alternatively she will pay one milliard of gold marks the first year, 1,200 millions the second and third years, 1,750 millions the fourth year, 2,400 millions the fifth year, and onwards.

After the sixth year the Reparations Commission demand supplementary payments, calculated on the basis of Germany's prosperity, possibly amounting to several hundred millions of gold marks.

The German railways are to be handed over for 50 years to an international company, with a capital of twenty-six milliards of gold marks, of which the Reparation Commission will hold eleven milliards of 6% debentures, giving an annual yield of 660 millions of gold marks after the fourth year.

Without entering into the question of the military occupation of the Ruhr, the experts think that Germany's economic restoration can be lasting, only if her economic unity is fully re-established; and they suggest a permanent committee of five experts, with a President nominated by the Reparation Commission to regulate the movement of German capital, and to administer the capital left temporarily in Germany.—Reuter.

EMPIRE'S SHIPPING.

LONDON, April 8.

Lloyd's Returns show the following particulars of ship-building for the past quarter: Under construction in the United Kingdom, 1,473,000 tons, an increase of 78,000 tons compared with the previous quarter and a decrease of 19,000 tons compared with the first quarter of 1923.

The total includes 131,000 tons upon which work has been suspended.

The tonnage launched during the past quarter totalled 361,000, compared with 114,000 for the previous quarter.

The total tonnage building abroad was 1,042,000 tons, including 118,000 upon which work has been suspended. Germany and Danzig head the list with 299,000 tons.

The tonnage launched abroad was 188,000.—Reuter.

GOLF.

On Saturday last, while the Boat Race was being decided on the Thames, teams representing the Universities played their annual golf match at Farningham. Although the Light Blues were successful on the river, their Hongkong golfers did not take advantage of the inspiration as Oxford won both the singles and the foursomes. Results in detail were:—

THE CAPTAIN'S CUP.
The Captain's Cup competition played on April 5 was won by Mr. J. L. Dowrick, 90-16-74, who qualifies for the Captain's Cup, and wins the silver button, and pool.

Bronchial Coughs
Bronchial coughs are not trifling. They are even menacing if allowed to hang on and weaken the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is just what you ought to take for bronchial influenza, and for gripe coughs. It contains no opiates and a pleasant feeling of warmth and comfort follows the first dose. Sold everywhere.

WARNING.

It has been reported to us that Edam Cheese has been imported in this Colony of a quality containing only 20% fat, instead of 40% as a good Edam Cheese should contain.

Every Cheese bears a government label indicating the percentage of fat, but there is no such indication on the tin, so that a buyer has to buy a tin and open it first before he knows whether he gets the value for his money.

In order to protect our interests as well as those of our customers we have decided to indicate on the tins the percentage of fat, of which kindly take note.

The following are copies of the government labels.

Amongst the presentations in the General Circle at a levee held by H.M. The King at St. James'
Palace on March 11, was Sir James Jamieson, K.C.M.G., on appointment to be a Knight Commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, who was presented by the Secretary of States for Foreign Affairs.

Many of the Colony's residents
no doubt recall John Gordon
Grant, who, a few years previous to the War, became a notorious character in Hongkong. He has just died at Parkhurst Prison, whilst undergoing a sentence of five years' penal servitude passed on him at the Lancaster Assizes,
Manchester, on November 22,
1922. Rogers was his last name.
